PLANTATION RESIDENCE

GUEST RESIDENCES

Each of the 25 guest residences is based on traditional Fijian building techniques—using local timber, thatch and stone—so that they seamlessly blend with the natural beauty of the island. Five types of residences, with integrated indoor and outdoor living spaces, provide guests with the luxury of total privacy and exclusivity. Plantation Residences are particularly spacious with up to three bedrooms, private beaches and outdoor pavilions with private pools. The Seagrass Residences are situated in the tropical jungle and are designed to blend in with the surrounding vegetation. Overlooking the ocean on a hill are the Plateau Residences, which due to their location are naturally secluded from the rest of the property. For a soothing retreat, stay in one of the Overwater Residences, built out over the sea, and relax on the floating daybed. The Peninsula Residences, which have uninterrupted ocean views and private beaches, feature Babylonian-style hanging walkways that lead to the dining and relaxation areas.

BEACH BAR

TOP RESTAURANTS

PLANTATION HOUSE RESTAURANT: The reconstructed original colonial style plantation house is the resort's sophisticated fine dining restaurant. Spanning two levels, the higher level boasts an open view display kitchen where cooking shows are held. Degustation menus feature corresponding wine and spirit selections, and incorporate freshly collected ingredients from the island's garden.

ROCK LOUNGE: Overlooking the Seagrass Bay is the open-air Rock Lounge, which has a sophisticated, classy and tropical chic ambience, and fantastic views of the ocean. Enjoy tropical cocktails and an assortment of light finger-foods while you soak in the view.

SEAGRASS LOUNGE & RESTAURANT: The Seagrass Lounge and Restaurant boasts ocean views towards neighboring islands and an elegant look with a contemporary Asian feel. Various private platform areas offer separate wining and dining choices, including a Teppanyaki grill and Asian-inspired cuisine. An extensive collection of new world whites, international beers, sakes and chilled reds complement the menu.

BEACH BAR: Enjoy barefoot dining at the edge of the lagoon bordering the beach. Guests can watch as the chefs prepare the catch of the day on the barbecue surrounded by flickering tiki torches.

SPA RECEPTION

SPA SERVICES

Relax and indulge at the resort's spa with spa journeys designed to soothe the soul and invigorate the body. The spa journeys offered in the spa menu are based on traditional rituals, combining South Pacific traditions and modern techniques. Sample treatments include two- and four-hand massages, Fijian hot and cold river stone therapy, body wraps, island volcanic scrubs and mineral crystal therapy among others. The spa includes four treatment villas with two wet treatment rooms, Vichy showers and steam rooms, as well as a hot stone, relaxation room, outdoor bathtub and a private changing room with shower. The heart of the spa is the spa garden. In this display garden you can explore and learn about one of Fiji's finest collections of tropical flowers, herbs, spices and fruits. All the different ingredients that are implemented in the spa products will be represented and interpreted in their roles for the spa.

GOLF

Set in the old plantation surrounded by Laucala's dramatic mountains, the resort's 18-hole championship course is uniquely and carefully designed to be challenging for the serious golfer, but still pleasurable for the social golfer. This is achieved making use of various tee positions. The design complements the environment with a variety of different holes, and natural features like rock formations and elevation changes are used to make the golfing experience enjoyable.
